“AAD is excited about working with Dr. Eric Plasker and other LCFE chiropractors across the U.S. to help our youth live a better lifestyle through health and wellness programs.” —Stedman Graham, Founder of AAD

AAD’s mission is “leverage national and local athletes, celebrities, and corporate leaders to educate youth to make healthy life decisions”. Our vision is to “help youth develop life skills for economic opportunities that will change their lives”. We have over 300 famous name athletes, all superstar professionals or Olympians, who have one thing in common: they form a select group of drug-free role models helping kids lead productive lives.

Chiropractic care helps athletes at all levels to heal quickly from injuries and enhance their athletic performance, naturally. Children and adults who receive regular chiropractic care have been shown to get sick less often, need less medication, sleep better, have more energy, and heal more quickly!
